

PARKLAND AREA OF HIGHWAY IS BUCKS' NO. 1 'DEATH-TRAP'

Six of 16 Meeting Death In Motor Accidents Were In Crashes There

POLICE BUSY YEAR

Officers From Langhorne Barracks Investigate 303 Accidents In 1949

The Parkland area along the Lincolnton road west of Penndel was Bucks county's No. 1 "death trap" in 1949, for no particular reason other than reckless and careless driving.

Of the 39 fatalities that were investigated by State Police in Bucks Co. during 1949, due to automobile accidents in the county, and on nearby out-of-county highways—six persons were killed along the two-mile stretch in the Parkland area.

Corporal Charles A. Jones, commanding officer of the Langhorne sub-station, emphasized that point today as he submitted a resume of the work accomplished by the Langhorne sub-station during a very busy 1949. There were 16 fatalities investigated in the area under the patrol of troopers from Langhorne. . . this includes the important Lincoln Highway.

Of the 16 killed in Bucks Co., four were pedestrians, seven were operators of automobiles, and five were passengers in vehicles. Six of those killed are listed as "local" residents. The records of police from the Langhorne barracks show that of the 16 fatalities, nine of them occurred on U. S. Route 1 between Penndel and Philadelphia city line; and three of those who met death were involved in accidents on Route 13 (Bristol Pike).

Of the 303 accidents investigated 150 occurred during day-time hours, and 153 at night periods. Comparative figures show 17 fatalities occurring in 1948 in the area, and 365 accidents.

Total property damage from accidents is listed at $146,755. During the year 1949 Langhorne

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

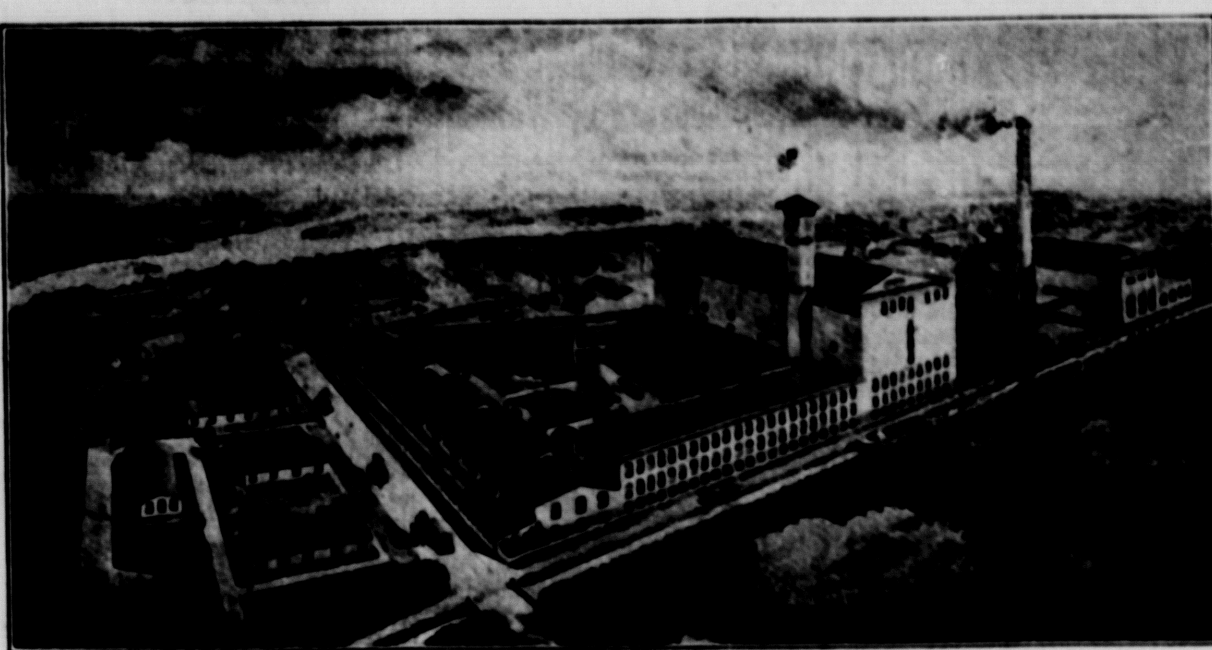

President Truman barred yesterday any form of military aid, advice or intervention in Formosa and limited this country's help to the Chinese Nationalists to the current ECA program. We have "no predatory designs on Formosa or any other Chinese territory," he declared, adding that non-intervention was our established foreign policy. Secretary Acheson denied any conflict over Formosa with defense leaders. Congressional reaction to the President's statement was prompt and strong, some Republicans saying he had broken the bipartisan foreign policy arrangement.

Britain, which yesterday broke off diplomatic relations with the Nationalists and is expected to recognize the Chinese Communists today or tomorrow, felt that the President's words had removed danger of serious differences between London and Washington over China.

Pakistan accepted United Nations proposals to demilitarize Kashmir prior to a plebiscite. India is insisting upon changes in the plan.

The Populist-Liberal coalition Cabinet in Greece resigned, as did Field Marshal Papagos and the Chief of Staff. Finland's Socialist Government decided to unfreeze

SEEKING TENANTS FOR VACANT GRUNDY MILL HERE

A herculean effort is to be made by the Industrial Committee of the Bristol Chamber of Commerce, along with others, to attract prospective tenants for the mill formerly occupied and operated by the William H. Grundy Co., and which now is vacant.

An opportunity is to be afforded on Tuesday to those who are interested in obtaining factory locations to come here, inspect the premises and to view at first hand the facilities and opportunities offered.

Advertisements are to appear in newspapers of New York and Philadelphia and literature is to be personally addressed to those who have from time to time inquired about the property. Other prospects will also be contacted and brought here.

The effort is being spearheaded by Stephen Midouhas, James W. Keegan and William L. Lloyd of the Bristol Chamber of Commerce. Co-operating with them is Bristol's burgess, I. J. Hetherington, and Councilman Francis J. Byers.

It is believed that with the willingness of the Crescent Corporation, owners of the plant, to break the property down into sections for occupancy, an opportunity to lease either all or substantial portions of it, are good.

One firm has expressed a willingness, it is stated, to lease 25,000 to 40,000 square feet. There are two other prospective tenants who are interested in perhaps 40,000 square feet more.

On Tuesday the visitors here will be conducted over the entire property, details will be discussed and every effort will be made to attract occupants to the property.

It is planned to have representatives of the borough, transportation companies and public utilities present, at which time their particular services can be outlined.

MUST SET PATTERN FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

George School Headmaster Addresses Bristol Rotary Club

AT LUNCHEON SESSION

"Let's not expect more of our young people of today than we, as adults, set the pattern and example for in our conduct, action, behavior and thinking in any given direction," local Rotarians were urged when Dr. Richard McFeeley, headmaster of George School, spoke to the club at the Elks' Home yesterday afternoon.

"Our youngsters must have the right education and knowledge," McFeeley pointed out, "but they must also be taught how to use it, and it is up to us as adults to show them by the way we conduct ourselves, by the way we act, and by the way we think, to see that this end is achieved."

One new member, Kenneth Brandau, manager of the Bristol office of the Girard Investment Company, was officially inducted into the Rotary Club, the introduction being made by President William J. Begley. Guests were present for the meeting from Bristol, Jenkintown and Philadelphia.

The speaker pointed out that the DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 5.—The burgess of a Bucks County borough, was told by Judge Hiram H. Keller that he had better familiarize himself with conditions in his district and try to stop the smuggling of liquor into the area.

Dr. John A. Flood, newly elected burgess of New Hope, was a character witness for Joseph P. Corrigan, 41, a bartender, who pleaded guilty to unlawfully transporting liquor and beer from Lambertville, N. J., to New Hope.

"What is your knowledge of this unlawful liquor traffic?" Judge Keller asked Burgess Flood. "Nothing except by hearsay," said Burgess Flood.

"Better familiarize yourself with the condition and try to have it stopped," the Court commented. Corrigan, who pleaded guilty to

The Croydon Cloudbusters May Be New Model Group

A new model airplane club, "The Croydon Cloudbusters," is in the early stage of being organized for model airplane enthusiasts in the Croydon, Maple Shade, Cornwells Heights, Eddington and Andalusia areas. It is an outgrowth of the "Bristol Aeromodelers" Club.

The club's formation is believed justified in view of the large number of model enthusiasts who at present meet in their homes and have small flying sessions in scattered groups but do not care to travel to Bristol to participate in the activities of the Aeromodelers. The club is believed to be able to develop many new model builders and fliers in this area and will also add another club in the Bucks County Federation of Model Clubs.

An offer to help the club get its start has been made by George Lukens, of the Croydon Business Men's Association.

The club hopes to be able to use the Croydon Skyport for its flying sessions.

THE TAX SWEAT

It can do no harm, and may conceivably do some good over the years to keep pounding away about taxes in the United States. State and local taxes are now double the prewar figures and the total tax take in the nation is four times the 1939 levy.

Federal taxes have been multiplied by seven since 1939, and the total government revenue is now equal to the entire income of the people of 25 states.

Taxes take every fourth income dollar. Per capita tax payments are $360, compared to $109 before the war. Corporations pay $10,499,000,000, compared to $1,500,000,000 a decade ago. Individuals pay $18,800,000,000, compared to $2,400,000,000 in 1939. Excises (levies on goods) are $7,600,000,000, compared to $1,700,000,000 in 1939.

The family with an income of $5,000 annually now pays $432 in income taxes, compared to $48 in 1939. The family with a $10,000 income pays $1,361, compared to $343 a decade ago.

These taxes are paid in inflated dollars, of course. Therefore the actual purchasing power of total tax revenue is not as much greater than in 1939 as the increased totals seem to indicate. But the constant inflation of the dollar has held up the cost of living so that the taxpayer has both higher taxes and higher prices to contend with.

Taxes are paid, as Franklin D. Roosevelt once said, by the sweat of every working man. It must be conceded that the working man is sweating more than ever in this land of the political spend-thrifts and the home of the well-fareites.

WHAT OF CHINA?

China is now almost completely under the control of the communists. The Chinese communists, like those in every country, owe allegiance to Moscow.

More than 400,000,000 people in China have been placed in the Russian orbit, and a great nation is at the command of Moscow. The question now is asked — it has the sound of wishful thinking — whether Moscow will have better success in stabilizing China than Washington had.

But whether China under red control would add strength to Russia in case of war is debatable. But if Russia, at gunpoint and through purges, can succeed in putting China on a self-sustaining basis, the United States will lose a great market for its goods.

It is not sane thinking to believe Russia will never be able to control the Chinese people. The reds are adept at handling slave labor, whose production would undersell American goods. The fact remains to be seen if they have the ability to cash in on the advantage.

The Russians have undertaken a task at which the United States failed, and presumably hope to accomplish what the Chinese people themselves could not do.

Must Set Pattern For Young People

Youth of today is interested in religion but when they see so many of their parents and other adults attending church very little they begin to question the value of religion as an important institution in today's world. He further pointed out that these same youngsters are interested in politics and the importance of the American voting franchise, but when they see less than fifty per cent of the eligible voters going to the polls in a presidential election, they begin to question this importance, also.

"And when our youngsters see the figures on what is spent annually in this country for education, as compared with other things, they wonder still more about its importance," McFeeley said. "Our youngsters know that the American liquor bill comes to three times more per year than the total amount spent for education, they know that the cosmetic bill is twice that of education per year, and they wonder at the relative value and importance of things as reflected in the amounts of money we adults spend."

"Our present world, with its many contrasts, makes it difficult for our young people to be sure of going forward with any real sense of direction. We, by our behavior and conduct, must show them the way, and this can best be started by the development of happy homes and a pleasant homelife, because this is where the first and often most lasting impressions are made on our citizens of tomorrow," the speaker concluded.

National Health Plans Discussed by Women

those proposed by Senators Hill and Taft.

The "Blue Shield" and "Blue Cross" plans were gone over; and it was mentioned by the speaker that physicians in this country feel that the American people should be allowed to follow their own desires in securing medical aid. The opinion was voiced by Dr. Paxson that most doctors in this country believe that a volunteer health plan is "better in the long run."

Mrs. Franklin Pennell brought to attention of members the Alameda plan which stemmed from southern California, with backing of some physicians there. She stated that such volunteer plans can be equal to any government plan for social ized medicine, with taxes and other costs not as great.

New Hope Burgess Told To Stop Liquor Smuggling Into That Borough

unlawfully possessing liquor, transportation of alcoholic beverages and malt and brewed beverages, was fined $100 and the costs of prosecution.

Judge Keller said the purpose of unlawfully hauling liquors and beer from New Jersey to Pennsylvania is to beat the paying of taxes.

"When you try to illegally evade paying taxes it affects every taxpayer in the state since taxes are levied for the welfare and public good of the citizens," Judge Keller ruled.

Corrigan, the father of two children, 7 and 9, who is employed in Earl's cafe in Lambertville, N. J., said he was ignorant of the law which provides that it is unlawful to buy liquor and beer in New Jersey and haul it into Pennsylvania.

He had about five gallons of liquor and four of beer in his car Nov. 28, 1949, when he was arrested by Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board Enforcement Officers in New Hope. Enforcement Officer Charles S. Lily testified that the Penna. Liquor Control Board received numerous complaints concerning the illegal liquor traffic between New Hope and Lambertville, N. J.

"I saw the defendant load cases into his car and drive to New Hope, where he was arrested just after he drove off the river bridge," said Officer Lily. The car was seized by the officers and will be confiscated. The defendant admitted he was employed by Earl Moran.

Enforcement Officer Martin Kaplan, who assisted in making the arrest, said there were five gallons of liquors and four of beer.

Character witnesses for the defendant were Dr. John A. Flood, Daniel D. Atkinson, John T. McCauley and Joseph Reading.

President Judge Keller also scored a newspaper advertisement which he recently saw, advocating buying liquors and beverages in New Jersey to escape paying the Pennsylvania State tax.

When Glenwood Tittemore, 314 W. Moreland ave., Hattboro, failed to appear in court, President Judge Keller ordered the case continued and intimated that an attachment may be issued. The defendant is charged with non-support and desertion in connection with a minor son since Dec. 1, 1947. Edith S. Tittemore, Hattboro, is the mother.

Judge Keller increased a support order of $7 to $10 for the support of Lorraine, S. daughter of Ferdinand Fortier, formerly of near Bristol. No support order was made for the defendant's estranged wife since a divorce action is pending. The $7 order was made July 2, 1946.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilkinson and family, of Stanhope, N. J., spent a day last week with Mr. and Mrs. A. Vanzant, Swain street.

RECIPES

Tuna Chinese Style

1 small onion
1/2 large green pepper
2 stalks celery
1/2 cup almonds
1 7-oz. can tuna fish

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2/3 cup bean sprouts
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 cup chicken bouillon
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 can fried noodles

Chop onion and green pepper fine, chop up celery (not too fine). Toast and silver your almonds right now, too. Drain the tuna and break up into fairly husky pieces. Now melt the butter or margarine in frying pan and brown the onion and pepper. Then add the tuna. Cook 3 minutes. Next add the celery and bean sprouts.

Mix up the cornstarch with the chicken broth and soy sauce and stir it in. Cook another 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Pour onto hot platter and sprinkle with the silvered, toasted almonds. Serve with fried noodles to 4 hungry people.

Health Council To Urge Smog Law

ing a "deplorable" smog problem in Burnham, Yeagerstown, and surrounding communities.

Dr. McNabb informed Dr. Engel that he vainly sought aid from the State Health Department's Bureau of Industrial Hygiene in remedying the "atmospheric dirt" problem.

"Nothing was done by the department of health... to control or help to control the condition," Dr. McNabb reported to the council.

"The Bureau of Industrial Hygiene informed me that because there was no state law to remedy the situation, nothing could be done by the health department."

Dr. Engel told INS that the health council "will consider early on its agenda the deplorable conditions existing in Burnham," a town of some 5,000 population.

The health council chief declared that "the conditions as described by Dr. McNabb are not in the interest of better health."

"The prevention of disease is one of the important problems in America if this country is to enjoy low morbidity and mortality."

"We of Pennsylvania should be ashamed that conditions such as those existing in Burnham are found in our commonwealth."

Dr. McNabb complained that "excessive dirt falls all about Burnham and surrounding communities" from the Standard Steel Works plant.

"The soot has been so excessive," the Burnham doctor charged, "as to make living almost unbearable in this community."

"The sidewalks must be swept three times daily, children's clothing must be changed three and four times a day, and the dirt filters into the homes, getting into dishes and other utensils.

"The dirt comes down like snow and filters in through the windows at night when asleep, getting into one's nostrils and causing almost everyone to have a chronic cough."

Dr. McNabb told the health council that Burnham's 5,000 residents "have the right to expect a cleaner atmosphere."

"I know that black coal dirt, being constantly present and in excessive amounts, is contributory to pulmonary tuberculosis."

Dr. McNabb said he had been informed that it would cost the steel firm $50,000 to use washers in their stacks.

"This would be about one-sixth of the sum paid out annually by the citizens of Burnham, Yeagerstown and surrounding communities to keep their homes and clothing in decent condition," he declared.

"The Pennsylvania department of health is interested in cleaning up its streams, but surely the atmosphere is also important."

Dr. McNabb charged — and Dr. Engel agreed with his contention — that local ordinances "are ineffectual" to control the smog problem in a small community.

"Local ordinances," said Dr. McNabb, "do not work and never will work in small communities where members of the council are, as a rule, employees of the industry producing the smog, for fear of possible criticism which may ensue should the industry leave the community and go elsewhere because of such an ordinance."

Declared Dr. Engel in supporting Dr. McNabb's statement:

"A state law is the only check on such public health hazards. The burden of responsibility for freedom from smog in Pennsylvania rests with our legislators in Harrisburg."

"I am sure not one of these gentlemen would want their families to live under the conditions described by Dr. McNabb."

Township School Affairs Analyzed by County Supt

crease school accommodations. In 1939 it was planned to erect a building in Croydon. After many meetings with both state and county school authorities decided to put the building in the center of the Township and the site on Rogers road was selected. Twenty acres was purchased and in 1940 a bond issue of $62,000 was floated to erect the present building. The cost of this building was considered high at that time but at the costs of buildings now, it was very low.

Dr. Boehm said that "in past decades a lot of taxes were not collected but that has changed and the township school district is on a good financial basis. Clarence Young has done a lot in putting in a modern accounting system which has helped the school district to be in good financial shape and the budget balanced. Thus the main points I am trying to get across to you tonight and compliment you on are: (1) You have a balanced budget and are using long range foresight in your financial program. (2) You have a modern accounting system. (3) The beginning of a long range building program is going on. (4) The elimination of 7th and 8th grades in the elementary schools. (5) The appointment of an elementary supervisor. (6) Making of many general improvements of children's records and keeping of such. (7) The economical transportation system you have. (8) and last point in the wonderful landscaping around this building."

The following recommendations were made by Dr. Boehm: (1) "To continue the long range building program. (2) Determine elementary school sites and take steps to purchase them, if at all possible. (3) Try to add to the high school site here on Rogers road. (4) Have elementary and high school teachers make a study of the type of class rooms needed. (5) Take under advisement a public relations program. There is a big need for the school to get the information of what the school board and the schools are doing before the public."

In closing Dr. Boehm said "Bristol Township has a very low per pupil cost. In the elementary grades it is $93 per pupil and in the high school it is $116 which is an average cost of $100 per pupil which is a lot lower than the state average which is $138."

The following committee was appointed to make a survey of the building needs of the school district. Walter D. Miller, Henry B. Decker, Dr. Charles Boehm, and the architects, Messrs. McKenzie and Wignome.

The school board discussed janitors' duties and how it would be possible to have some one at the school on Rogers Road until midnight every night, also to distribute the work better. The solution to the problem was the staggering of the shift of the janitors, the school board decided, and put it in the hands of the transportation committee.

"Love your enemies," (Luke 6:27)

Tough. Sure, I know it's a hard thing to do. I should love someone when they hate me. If they curse at me I should pray for them. If they cheat me I should be kind to them. It is the Christian's duty to love all men.

While Stephen was being stoned to death he said, "Lord, lay not this sin to their charge." Christ, when dying on the cross, prayed, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." We should love all men because they are children of God.

Our Prayer: Some trust in rockets, and some in atomic bombs; but we will remember the name of the Lord our God. Amen.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

BY JOE ELERSON

Annual meeting . . . the most important meeting of the year for the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association will be held next Tuesday, January 10th, when the annual meeting of that organization is held at the Bristol YMCA, Mansion street.

Among the features of the meeting, which will get underway at 8 p. m., will be the election of officers for 1950; awarding of rifle team prizes; awarding of 1949 fishing contest prizes; some good sports movies; free refreshments; and prizes.

Every member of the Association should plan to be present, and interested non-member sportsmen have a cordial invitation to attend.

Clarification . . . just four weeks ago this column recorded the writer's experiences on a deer-hunting trip to the Poconos. The item recounted the fact that certain of his buddies had turned "chicken" at the last moment and didn't make the trip with the writer. Since that time, however, several other innocent friends have had unjustified criticisms heaped upon them for their supposed lack of sportsmanship in not keeping promises concerning the trip.

It therefore becomes my duty to exonerate those who have been wrongly accused, and to name the parties who failed to keep the faith. The two who slept comfortably all day on December 10th (and who originally planned the trip) were H. Bosler and F. Everitt.

More rabbits . . . on Tuesday of this week the depleted covers of open hunting grounds in the Bristol area were stocked with 78 very lively bunnies by members of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association. They were part of a shipment of 7 dozen rabbits from Missouri, which were purchased with the Association's funds. Six were dead on arrival of that total. This stocking, plus the recent stocking by the Edgely Rod & Gun Club, plus the limited stocking by the Game Commission, should raise the hopes for the 1950 season of the boys who hunt with eagles.

New game school . . . the Pennsylvania Game Commission has just announced that a new class of game protector and game propagator students will begin a course of training at the Commission's school in April of this year.

Made citizens of the Commonwealth who are interested in Game Commission Service and who are between the ages of 23 and 35 should immediately write to the Ross Leffler School of Conservation, R. D. 1, Brockway, Pennsylvania, for information outlining the requirements and qualifications for admission to the school.

Another important meeting . . . the annual meeting of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs is scheduled for Monday evening at the Warrington Inn, on Route 611, just south of Doylestown.

It promises to be an outstanding meeting, from all advance reports. The committee in charge has arranged a dinner which will be served at 7:30 p. m., after which the program will be presented.

Highlighting the affair will be an address by Thomas D. Fry, Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Game Commission (the "top" man of Game Commission personnel). Other important Game and Fish Commission officials will be present as guests. In addition, an interesting entertainment program is promised.

Each member club will be allowed a total of six representatives at the banquet, and it is hoped that all clubs, particularly those of the lower end of Bucks County, will take advantage of this opportunity.

Who knows . . . during the past bear season a cub was taken by Game Protector Hagenbuch of Bloomsburg for case settlement. Hagenbuch turned the carcass over to local needy. The next day he was surprised at information he received from the party who butchered the cub. Investigation bore out his story. While cutting up the meat something sharp stuck the man's finger. Upon closer examination, he found an open safety pin lodged in the loin meat just under the backbone. How it got there was the source of much speculation. Someone advanced the theory that "the mother bear must have misplaced the pin while changing diapers."

Licenses . . . 1950 fishing licenses are now available at Bristol's two sporting goods stores, Auto Boys and Diamond Sporting Goods, and both stores report sales already! Cost: $2.00.

Plentiful . . . from Joe Haines, Edgely comes this item: While working in the Yardley area, more ducks (literally in the hundreds) have been observed resting and feeding on a small island pond than has been noted by the tenants of the particular farm in many, many years.

FORESEE A CLOSE GAME, LANGHORNE, BENSALEM TWP.

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Jan. 6.—Bensalem Township will shoot for its second win of the season tonight when it lines up against "Jim" Egli's Langhorne High basketball team on the home floor. The first game, between the Junior High teams of the schools, will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Coach "Johnny" Messenger's Owls opened their season with a win over Lower Moreland but the Southampton Greyhounds handed them a setback to balance their mark.

Lack of a practice floor has always hindered Langhorne high from placing a first-rate court team on the floor but Coach Egli has made many improvements so that a close game may be expected.

BRISTOL HIGH TO BEGIN ITS DEFENSE OF CROWN TONIGHT

The Bristol High court team, Lower Bucks champions of 1948-49, will begin its defense of the crown tonight as it meets the Pennsbury High team on the Parker School floor, Trenton, N. J. Varsity and Junior Varsity games will be played with the first game getting away at 7:30 o'clock.

Coach Jerry Bloom's team has an even .500 average for this season thus far, beating the Alumni and St. James of Chester and losing to Reading Central Catholic and Overbrook.

The Christmas holiday brought a lull to the basketball activities but Coach Bloom curtailed his vacation and began to call practice sessions so that the boys would be on their toes for the tilt with the Falcons. Coach Bloom also arranged a practice scrimmage with Lansdale High for last week which was profitable to both teams.

Pennsbury has one of the best teams in years and are out to stop the Warriors. Coach Harry Wyczkoff's minions recently rolled in 70 points against St. Francis and last season in the tilt at Trenton, Bristol barely got away with a triumph, it being a close affair throughout.

It is most likely that "Charlie" Rauch and Joe Pindar will be the starting forwards in tonight's fracas with "Vic" Cauti and "Frankie" Barabeta being the guards. Frank Rich will be at the center position. For reserve material, Coach Bloom has "Jim" Lewis, Alan Stoneback, "Bill" Condit, "Dick" Puchino, Marty Braam, "Jim" Morrell, Howard Grant, Harry Eisenbrey, and Vito Basco.

Coach Harry McClister's Jayvees will be seeking their third win of the season against the Pennsbury J. V's.

The Warriors will be on the road until January 20th when it returns to play Palmyra. The game with Bensalem, scheduled for home next Tuesday night, has been transferred to Bensalem because of the installing of the new bleachers in the local "gym."

PENNSBURY JR. IN A LATE RALLY BEAT BRISTOL JR.

Pennsbury Junior High staged a spirited second-half rally to conquer Bristol Township Junior High, 41-24, yesterday afternoon on the Rohm and Haas floor.

The Junior Falcons were ahead, 16-14, at the half-way mark but pulled away at the start of the third quarter to make the tilt a rout.

"Mickey" Bray led the Pennsbury team in scoring with 14 points while Marks had 12.

For Township both Gibbs and Nichols had six points each.

Handling of Fog, Foam Discussed for Firemen

MORRISVILLE, Jan. 6.—The application and handling of fog and foam on various types of fires was discussed by Roland Girton, assistant foreman of Capitol View Fire Co., last evening, when members of that company gathered.

This is part of the plan, according to Chief Maryin S. Allison, to have a series of talks on various pieces of equipment at regular fire company meetings.

NEWPORTVILLE

Girl Scout Troop No. 21 enjoyed a Christmas party Dec. 28th at the home of Barbara Butz. Eighteen enjoyed games and exchanged gifts. Refreshments were served. The Sunday School class of Newportville Community Church—Presbyterian, taught by Mrs. Fred Kohler, Sr., enjoyed a Christmas party, Dec. 29th, at the home of Mrs. J. E. Headley. Gift exchange revealed secret pals; and new pals were chosen. A covered dish supper was enjoyed by 18.
